Course Description

Welcome to 7th Grade Language Arts! Our focus this school year will be learning and developing our skills as critical thinkers, readers, writers, speakers, and listeners. The development and mastery of these important literary skills not only is important to achieving success in the Language Arts classroom, but also is a critical component of achieving success in other school subjects, building strong relationships with others, and attaining a flourishing career as an adult. Basically, the quality of life you experience now through adulthood will greatly depend on how well you learn to read, write, and communicate with others... so let's get to it!

What do I get if I follow class rules?

Your appropriate behavior in class assures everyone of an environment conducive to learning. Some possible rewards for continuous appropriate behavior are: intrinsic value (satisfaction of learning), improved skills, verbal praise, positive note to parents, tangible trinkets (candy!), and special class activities.

What happens if I don't follow class rules?

- 1) Verbal Intervention – Teacher will discuss why the behavior is inappropriate,
- 2) Logical Consequences – Consequences of continued misbehavior explained and possible meeting with teacher given during recess,
- 3) Conference – Teacher will send an email to conference with the parents, and
- 4) Referral – Student will be sent to the office and asked to complete a student reflection form.

Where do I go to find agendas and assignments?

Weebly houses our class website with important announcements and more. In addition, this year our ELA classroom will utilize Haiku to provide students with a look at our weekly agenda and corresponding homework assignments. Please bookmark the following sites and check them on a daily basis:

Website: <http://g7du.weebly.com/language-arts.html>

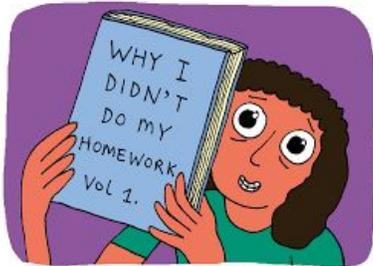

Website: <https://www.myhaikuclass.com/ramquistsdupeoria/duela7th>

How is technology used in the English classroom?

It is my goal to foster student learning with both traditional pen and paper and net-based medium. In the language arts classroom, students will regularly complete reading, writing, research, and quizzes/tests using school-provided Chromebooks. In order to use these laptops, students must have a Google based email account, so that they can login to the laptop to create and submit their work. Students may also use educational websites such as Quizlet and IXL for classwork and/or homework.

Grading Scale

A+	= 98% - 100%	A	= 93% - 97%
A-	= 90% - 92%	B+	= 88% - 89%

Plagiarism

When a student is found to be plagiarizing:

1st Offense: Student will be asked to re-submit the assignment

2nd Offense: Parents and Office will be notified and student will receive a zero on the assignment

How will I check my grade in class?

Class progress reports will be emailed to parents midway through the semester. However, parents and students are also encouraged to check Quickschools on a weekly basis to view the most current grades for every class, not just mine!

What do I do if I am absent?

Students are expected to be in class on a daily basis, per the attendance policy. In the event of an excused absence, students should check the class Haiku site for agendas, handouts, and any assignments due. Students will have as many days as they were absent to make up assignments, tests, and/or quizzes missed. If students do not make up the work after the allotted number of days has passed, a zero will be recorded in the gradebook.

If students would like to make up any classwork and/or homework from an extended, excused absence (not due to illness), they must come and speak to the teacher. Quizzes and tests will always have a make-up if the absence was excused.

What if I don't do my homework?

There will be a 10% deduction taken for the first day that an assignment is late. After the second day, a 50% deduction will be taken, and after the third late day, the assignment will receive a zero.

Can I earn extra credit or re-do an assignment?

Extra credit may be assigned, but may not be expected. Students should always put forth maximum effort when completing assignments to eliminate the need for extra credit. Redos may be allowed on a case-by-case basis, as determined by the teacher, and only on tests and/or final projects. In all other cases, grades will not be modified unless to correct a mathematical error.

Do I have to read outside of class?

All students will be expected to read independently on a daily basis and keep a reading log. Students must bring a reading book to class every day, as it may be used in both reading and/or writing (writing about reading!).

Students can expect book projects on the books they are independently reading, literature circles, book clubs, and, of course, book contests!

What types of writing will I do this year?

6-Traits of Writing It's not a program, but a framework that uses the six qualities of "good" writing to guide every lesson, assignment, and assessment. We will use an Evan-Moor workbook to continuously practice each of the 6-traits (ideas, organization, voice, word choice, sentence fluency, and conventions).

Process Pieces refer to essays that students will complete on their Google Drive account. Numerous essays will be completed throughout the year (at least one per quarter). Even though they will be worked on and stored in the student's Google Drive, completed essays must be printed off on the due date of the assignment. Process pieces will come from the main writing genres: narrative, informative, and argumentative writing.

How does Mrs. Ramquist choose books for her library?

Mrs. Ramquist asks students for help when purchasing books for her library. Often students will ask for a specific book or will indicate a genre that they love. Mrs. Ramquist does her very best to choose appropriate books by reading reviews and book summaries; however, she cannot assure that all books will follow Islamic standards. Mrs. Ramquist does her best, but she kindly asks for parental help in monitoring the books that students are reading.
